THE RAIN SAVER*

PATENT NO. 4,213,502

Farmers realize that crop yields are directly related to maximum moisture retention and minimum soil erosion. One efficient method of accomplishing this important task is using "The Rain Saver".

"The Rain Saver" is a device which fits plows to allow a farmer to construct an irregular series of uniform dikes in the furrows. These dikes provide a check in the furrow preventing excess water runoff and accompanying soil erosion.

"The Rain Saver" diking process can be utilized during any bedding operation from listing to cultivation, resulting in saving of time, fuel, soil, and moisture.
